"Half a Million Bulbs"

Foreword

In presenting to you this modest little catalogue, I wish to say that each and every variety listed herewith is distinct from one-another and call special attention to the three seedling varieties, viz: A. W. Hunt, Elsie and Prim Beauty, all originated by Wilbur A. Christy, of Warren, Ohio. Having taken over the entire stocks of these three fine varieties I offer them with confidence that they are equal to many of the new varieties now offered by the leading gladiolus growers and specialists.

Everyone with a garden, wheather large or small, should make it a point to plant at least a few gladioli as they are surely the "Summer Flower Par Excellence."

Yours for a brighter and more beautiful garden.

ALFRED OESTERLING.

"He who sows the ground with care and diligence acquires a greater stock of religious merit than he could gain by the repetition of ten thousand prayers."—Zoroaster.

The Modern Gladiolus

A wonderful improvement has been made in the Gladiolus during the last few years. Those who are acquainted only with old red spikes which grew in Grandmother's garden will hardly recognize it as they gaze on the large and gorgeous flowers of the modern hybrids which are the result of thousands of crosses made by specialists in this line. The newer kinds embrace many varieties producing from 12 to 20 blooms on a single spike, many of which will measure from four to six inches across. Nearly all the colors of the rainbow may now be found. The combination of colors and beautiful markings of the petals and throat cannot be surpassed by any other flower. As sturdy as the lily and as exquisite as the expensive orchid it may be grown successfully by the amateur in any ordinary garden, and if several plantings are made in the spring at different times, bloom may be had from the end of July until frost. Covering the widest range of colors from the brightest blood-red scarlet, deep purple and rich carmine shades to the most delicate tints of white, pink, yellow and lavender, they prove at once the most showy and attractive of garden flowers. They are rightly called "The People's Orchid." With freedom from disease and insect pests there is no easier flower to grow. No other flower gives so much satisfaction at small expense. If you have never planted any of the newer varieties such as are offered you in this booklet, give them a trial. They will be a delight to the eye and a joy to the soul.

On account of its good keeping qualities the Gladiolus surpasses all other flowers for cutting purposes, and in order to obtain the utmost pleasure from the blooms you should cut the spikes as soon as the first flower opens on the stalk and place them in vases in the house. A vase of blooms may be kept fresh for a week or more. Not only that but the color will be brighter and more beautiful when cut than when cut in the sunny garden. The Gladiolus is particularly adapted to the table decoration. Cut the spike in the morning or evening when the first bloom opens. Change the water daily, remove the withered portions, and cut (on a slant) an inch or so from the end of each stem. Every bud will open one by one to the very top.

Culture

The culture of the Gladiolus is so simple as to render it the most satisfactory of garden flowers, thriving and blooming freely with the least care and attention and making a display which for beauty of bloom and brilliancy of coloring is unequaled by any other flower. If you can grow potatoes you can grow Gladiolus. Plant in any good garden soil as soon as ground is workable up to the middle of June. If several plantings are made at different times the season of bloom will be lengthened. Do not plant in shade of trees or buildings, and do not allow fresh manure to come in direct contact with bulbs. Use well-rotted manure, commercial fertilizer, wood ashes, or bone meal, well mixed with the soil. Set the bulbs five to six inches deep in rows and about three to four inches between each bulb. Rows about 18 inches apart. If planted in quantity and to be cultivated with a horse make rows 30 to 36 inches apart. Keep soil loose and free from weeds. When cutting flower spike let three to four leaves remain on the plant to allow the bulb to mature properly. Dig the bulbs in the fall, any time after October 1st; cut off tops, and after drying in the open air for a few days store away in a dry, cool but frost proof place in the cellar. Keep as near 40 degrees as possible.

Remittances should be made by Post Office or Express Money Order, Registered Letter or Draft. For small amounts postage stamps are acceptable.

Write your name and address very plainly.

All of the bulbs I send out are 1 1-4 inches up, and guaranteed true to name and will be properly labeled.

Early orders are advisable, as stocks of some choice varieties are very limited and the cheaper varieties are in great demand.

While we exert the greatest care to have all our stock true to name, we give no warranty, expressed or implied, as to crop, and will not be responsible for results, other than to replace stock not true to name or refund amount received for same.

We prefer to ship bulbs any time before April 15th.

For prices per 1,000 ask for our wholesale list.

Cut flowers in large or small quantities during the blooming season—July until frost—for decoration or commercial use.

Prices on application.

“Dry, wrinkled, ill-looking thing,
Lifeless roots around you cling,
Beauty seems gone forever.
Ugly, ill-shapen and bare.
Brown and shriveled, shall I ever
See you again so fair?
